

will not regret it.

Give God the benefit of the doubt. God does not make mistakes; men make mistakes when they correct God. God inspired and promised to preserve his words. It would be a mistake for men not to believe every one.

"The words of the LORD are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever."

- Psalm 12:6-7

Find more free resources at:
www.graceambassadors.com

will not regret it.

Give God the benefit of the doubt. God does not make mistakes; men make mistakes when they correct God. God inspired and promised to preserve his words. It would be a mistake for men not to believe every one.

"The words of the LORD are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever."

- Psalm 12:6-7

Find more free resources at:
www.graceambassadors.com

Trust Your Bible Without Mistakes

It is a shame that seminaries teach pastors that there are mistakes in the Bible.

Armed with this dangerously wrong information pastors leave seminaries and convince their congregations that there are 'better renderings', 'unfortunate translations', and plain mistakes in the Bible.

As a result no one trusts the Bible in their language anymore; no one memorizes scrip-

Trust Your Bible Without Mistakes

It is a shame that seminaries teach pastors that there are mistakes in the Bible.

Armed with this dangerously wrong information pastors leave seminaries and convince their congregations that there are 'better renderings', 'unfortunate translations', and plain mistakes in the Bible.

As a result no one trusts the Bible in their language anymore; no one memorizes scripture anymore; saints think they need to spend years studying Greek and Hebrew before they can understand God's word in English; and doctrines suffer endless twisting and corrupting when a verb meaning needs a little push in the direction of a three point outline.

Critics cannot find a single legitimate mistake in the Bible, yet many pastors seem to be focused on creating them by peppering the scripture with 'better renderings'.

It would be better if instead of spending our time confusing congregations with third grade Greek that we teach them the word of God in English!

Shouldn't we first learn why Christ was baptized twice rather than learning that the Greek word for baptize is baptizo?

Isn't it more important to know that there is more than one gospel in the scripture than to ture anymore; saints think they need to spend years studying Greek and Hebrew before they can understand God's word in English; and doctrines suffer endless twisting and corrupting when a verb meaning needs a little push in the direction of a three point outline.

Critics cannot find a single legitimate mistake in the Bible, yet many pastors seem to be focused on creating them by peppering the scripture with 'better renderings'.

It would be better if instead of spending our time confusing congregations with third grade Greek that we teach them the word of God in English!

Shouldn't we first learn why Christ was baptized twice rather than learning that the Greek word for baptize is baptizo?

Isn't it more important to know that there is more than one gospel in the scripture than to know that the Greek word for gospel sounds like evangelist?

Instead of shamefully casting doubt on any word in scripture our leaders should be defending every syllable!

Modern seminaries don't tell you that most so-called mistakes are only mistakes in interpretation and not translation. Neither will they tell you that the Bible is free from mistakes, but I will. There are no mistakes in the Bible. You can trust every word in it.

Choose you this day which Greek text you will never fully learn. As for me and my house we shall read the Bible without one mistake in it.

If you have been victimized by amateur Greek translators decide now to trust God's ability to inspire and preserve his words for you to use. Study your Bible in English. You know that the Greek word for gospel sounds like evangelist?

Instead of shamefully casting doubt on any word in scripture our leaders should be defending every syllable!

Modern seminaries don't tell you that most so-called mistakes are only mistakes in interpretation and not translation. Neither will they tell you that the Bible is free from mistakes, but I will. There are no mistakes in the Bible. You can trust every word in it.

Choose you this day which Greek text you will never fully learn. As for me and my house we shall read the Bible without one mistake in it.

If you have been victimized by amateur Greek translators decide now to trust God's ability to inspire and preserve his words for you to use. Study your Bible in English. You